

Festive Glow

At Christmas time we feel that Festive Glow
A yule-log warmth with lights that twinkle show
Our hearts are warm, protected from the snow
And sleet and frost and chilling winds that blow

At Christmas time our friends and loved ones know
That sprigs of holly, and some mistletoe
Combined with trees and decorations go
Towards a feeling of that Festive Glow

At Christmas time our celebrations flow
As do our drinks at parties we will throw
We open up our hearts and say 'hello'
To revel in each other's Festive Glow

At Christmas time we spend and dine, although
Not everyone will feel that Festive Glow
That light and warmth needs energy we know
That's all too dear, so many must forego

At Christmas time we care for all, and so
Spare thought for thoughtful gifts you can bestow
Upon the breadline and to those below
And let us share that precious Festive Glow

Richard Kay 2022